Labor Says Freeze Hurts Working Man

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Two of Arkansas' labor leaders said Sunday night that President Nixon's wage-price-rent freeze discriminated against the working man.

"It's the old, outdated theory of watering the economic tree at the top rather than the roots," said J. Bill Becker, president of the state AFL-CIO.

"I don't think the freeze is going to be effective because it is not doing anything about interest rates or profits," said Herbert Bingham, head of the United Auto Workers in Arkansas.

Bingham said the state UAW had done a study and had determined that the state's 1,174 UAW members had lost more than $91,000 in the freeze period from Aug. 15 through Nov. 13 in raises under already negotiated contracts.

Both Bingham and Becker agreed that workers should get their pay raises retroactively for contracts already in effect.

"The president did not have the authority to cancel the economic parts of the union contract," said Becker. "He abused his authority in that regard."

Nothing New in Soviet Arms Parade

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet government staged its annual display of military might Sunday for the 54th anniversary of the Bolshevik Revolution, but nothing new was shown.

The parade went off like clockwork with troops, tanks, red-tipped missiles and thousands of Soviet citizens passing through swirling snow in Red Square.

Speaking from the reviewing stand atop Lenin's red granite tomb, Defense Minister Andrei A. Grechko stressed the Soviet Union's military capability. He mentioned the United States only indirectly, referring to "imperialist expansionist plans" in Vietnam and the Middle East.

With him were Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev, Premier Alexei N. Kosygin, President Nikolai S. Podgorny and other government, party and military leaders.

The fur-capped leaders climbed to the reviewing stand to the accompaniment of muffled applause from gloved hands. The snow had just begun to fall.

When Grechko finished his six-minute speech, the military band struck up the Soviet national anthem. Artillery salvos echoed through the huge square, starting the pigeons on the Kremlin towers into flight.

By that time Lenin's tomb was draped in snow. It whitened the shoulders and caps of the massed troops marching past.

Then came the tanks, treads clanking on the cobblestones of Red Square. Rumbling vehicles pulled a sampling of the Kremlin's missile and rocket arsenal. Among the weapons were the 25-megaton SS9 intercontinental ballistic missile and the SAM2 antiaircraft missiles, along with antiballistic missiles and rockets for submarines.

IT'S NICE TO KNOW we aren't the only ones with parking problems. This jam-packed lot, which would do credit to any American city of respectable size, is in Montbriery, France.

School Prayer Issue to Be Close, Both Sides Are Predicting Victory

WASHINGTON (AP) — House foes of a proposed constitutional amendment to permit prayers in public schools demonstrated enough strength on a preliminary test today to defeat the proposal later in the day.

They failed by a rollcall vote of 242 to 156 to block a move to force consideration of the proposal but mustered more than one-third of the total tally.

The proposed amendment needs a two-thirds vote when put to a test on its merits later. The preliminary vote showed the proposal's backers with 24 votes short of the two-thirds required on the final test.

However, it is not unusual for members to switch their positions when the vote is on legislation itself rather than on a preliminary move.

Should the amendment pass the House it still would have to get through the Senate by a two-thirds vote and be ratified.

Voting Machine Hearing to Reopen Nov. 29

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — A hearing on a petition for a writ of mandamus to compel the Faulkner County Board of Election Commissioners to initiate a plan for the purchase of voting machines will reconvene Nov. 29.

Circuit Court Judge Russell C. Roberts of Conway heard the plaintiffs' side of the case Saturday. The defendants will be heard when the hearing reconvenes.

Fear Unfounded, No Aftermath of Nuclear Blast

AMCHITKA ISLAND, Alaska (AP) — A government spokesman says the only initial adverse effects from the Amchitka underground nuclear blast were minor ones. Scientists now look forward to the use of underground blasts elsewhere to tap new sources of natural gas.

Atomic Energy Commission officials said they were pleased with the results of the Amchitka explosion and plan no further nuclear tests on this bleak Aleutian island between the Bering Sea and Pacific Ocean.

It is conceivable, AEC officials say, that a new test of the use of nuclear explosions in the production of natural gas could come as early as late next year near the small mountain community of Rio Blanco, Colo.

Hundreds of similar explosions could follow beneath the hills of Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico and Utah.

by the legislatures of 38 states before going into effect.

Major church organizations and the legal community have mounted a strenuous campaign against the amendment, charging it would endanger religious freedom by involving the state in religion.

Supporters of the amendment say it is needed to restore the practice of prayers in the public schools which was widely followed before a 1962 Supreme Court ruling that banned state-imposed prayers.

There have been efforts in the House ever since 1962 to get a vote on a constitutional amendment to nullify the court ruling, but this is the first one to make it to the floor.

Rep. Chalmers P. Wylie, R-Ohio, got 218 members—a majority of the House—to sign a petition taking the amendment out of the Judiciary Committee, where it had been bottled up, and bring it onto the House floor.

The procedure permits only Marker Honors Dr. Bennett

CONWAY, Ark. (AP) — A marker at Lake Bennett near here was dedicated Sunday in honor of the late Dr. Hammond Bennett, who was the former chief of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service.

Hollis R. Williams of Washington, the deputy administrator for Watershed of the Soil Conservation Service in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, dedicated the marker. He termed Bennett the "father of soil conservation" and said that Bennett was an "evangelist" in his field.

one hour's debate and bars any amendments to change the proposed language without Wylie's consent. Opponents say such limitations make it impossible to consider the amendment properly.

The amendment reads: "Nothing in this Constitution shall abridge the right of persons lawfully assembled in any public building which is supported in whole or in part through the expenditure of public funds, to participate in non-denominational prayer."

Opponents have centered much of their criticism of the amendment on the word "non-denominational." They say the major religious faiths have never been able to agree on a common prayer.

And the daily recitation of a prayer devoid of religious or spiritual content, they say, would undermine faith and cheapen religion.

Rural Needs Study Asked

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — Rep. Bill Alexander, D-Ark., said here Saturday that a national center for regional affairs should be created to study the needs of rural communities.

He said such a center was needed to serve the needs of hundreds of small cities, towns and counties trapped in a "bureaucratic vacuum."

Alexander said he would like to see such a center established on the campus of Arkansas State University.

U.S. Sends 5,000 More Men Home

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — American military strength in Vietnam dropped another 5,000 men last week to 191,100, the U.S. Command reported today. It was the biggest weekly cut in six months.

The Command said U.S. strength was at its lowest level since December 1965 when there were 184,300 troops in Vietnam. The forces in the country last Saturday included 184,900 Army, 31,900 Air Force, 9,700 Navy, 500 Marines and 100 Coast Guard.

Another 13,000 officers and men of the U.S. 7th Fleet are on carriers and other ships operating off the coast of Vietnam, and there are 32,200 men in Thailand, most of them Air Force personnel for the air war in Indochina.

Informed sources said President Nixon in his withdrawal announcement next week is expected to announce the end of the American role in ground combat in Vietnam, with the phasing out of the last remaining American division and tactical corps headquarters.

The 101st Airborne Division and the 24th Corps, its tactical headquarters, will be pulled out of the war zone early next year, sources said. Both operate in the northern quarter of South Vietnam.

Emotions Are Mixed About the Federal School Lunch Program

By AUSTIN SCOTT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Although they fought hard for it, supporters of the 25-year-old federal school lunch program have mixed emotions about the congressional resolution that keeps the program from being cut back this year.

"It's a major victory in the short run," Gerald Cassidy, counsel for the Senate Select Committee on Nutrition and Human Needs, said of the resolution signed Saturday by President Nixon.

"We prevented the administration from doing ... every restrictive thing they planned to do," he said. "But the question remains as to what they will attempt to do through legislation next year to limit the program."

Barbara Bode, vice president of The Childrens Foundation, a private group that monitors government food programs, wasn't even optimistic about the short-term effects.

"I see this as a step backwards," she said. "The resolution is more restrictive than the law it was supposed to reinforce. It's a classic example of too little and too late, and it cuts the program's flexibility."

For example, she said, the resolution prevents school districts from raising their income-eligibility guidelines if the cost of living rises.

In addition, her foundation claims that the program has already been hurt because a number of school districts, uncertain about the lunch program's final form, cut back their own spending.

The resolution, passed unanimously by the House and the Senate in the third week of October, was Congress' reaction to a three-month campaign by the Agriculture Department to cut back the program.

Asst. Secretary of Agriculture Richard Lyng said he was looking for a way to make states and school districts pay a larger share of the program, which now costs the government $1.2 billion a year.

Just before schools opened in September, the department announced it would reduce the amount of money it paid for every lunch that schools served free, or at a reduced price, to needy children.

When that provoked protests from Congress and state authorities, the department partially rescinded its cutback.

Instead, the department said that it would limit its payments to free or cut-price lunches given to children whose families earned less than the $3,940 a year that the federal government defines as the poverty line for a family of four.

Because many school districts were getting federal money for meals served under their own, much higher poverty guidelines—up to $9,500 in San Francisco—another wave of protest broke, culminating in the joint resolution.

Laird Wants Speedup in Withdrawals

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird indicated today he would recommend to President Nixon a speedup in the pace of American troop withdrawals from Vietnam.

Returning from a five-day visit to Saigon, Laird said the progress of the South Vietnamese was "indeed encouraging" and that the Nixon administration's program of turning responsibility for the conduct of the war over to Saigon was "on schedule or ahead of schedule in all respects."

He declined to speculate on the next phase of the pullout but predicted substantial reductions in the use of American air power as the South Vietnamese air force gains strength.

However, he said that as long as American forces remain in South Vietnam, U.S. air power will be there to protect them. He also said most Americans have been removed from the ground combat role but that some troops also would remain to protect American logistical and support forces aiding the South Vietnamese.

At a news conference at near-by Andrews Air Force Base, Laird declined to answer how large a residual force would be left behind next year. The administration is believed to be thinking of a force of about 40,000 by next summer.

Approval to Bring Many New Jobs

Tuesday, November 9, voters of Hope go to the polls to decide on two bond issues that will guarantee several hundred more industrial jobs here.

One issue will allow Tennessee Forging Steel Company to build a complete new plant in the Proving Ground area that will provide jobs for 240 persons, many highly skilled. Passage of a $1.5 million bond issue must be approved.

The second bond issue is for $3.6 million with which Permaneer Corp. plans to expand its existing plant (Wynnewood products) which will provide at least 100 additional jobs. If approved Permaneer has already announced plans to bring a new furniture plant to the same area that will employ from 450 to 500 more persons. Production at the furniture plant is projected by the end of 1972.

The bonds will be issued under Arkansas Act 9 which in no way obligates the City of Hope, Hempstead or its residents. The bonding company deals directly with the occupant which pays off the bonds. Both industries have waived the local tax exemptions to which they would have been entitled to have better schools and community.

City Hall, Ward 3. Hope Youth Center, both Ward 4 boxes.

Busing Only Topic of Governors

By WILLIAM CHAZZ
Associated Press Writer
ATLANTA, Ga. (AP)

Pending federal legislation which would restrict busing to school districts seems the only topic likely to prompt such agreement among the four governors of the Southern States Conference.

The measure was approved by the House last week but still faces Senate approval. It would bar the expenditure of federal funds for busing to achieve racial balance in classrooms and would also prevent federal authorities from requiring school districts to use busing to achieve racial balance.

A House provision would delay the effective date of any court-ordered busing plan until all appeal procedures have been exhausted.

The 13th annual conference of Southern governors, which opened Sunday, will also be dominated by discussion of the 1970 presidential race and speculation of the race to be played by Arkansas Gov. George C. Wallace, the unsuccessful third party candidate in 1968.

Wallace said he has not decided whether to enter the 1970 presidential primary, but he said that if he did, he would carry a good chance of winning.

The National Democratic party might have a good reason to look for a state like Georgia and the best way would be to have a candidate like the one in the primary. Wallace said he would not be running in 1970.

Mississippi Gov. John Bell Williams, the conference chairman, Georgia Gov. Jimmy Carter, and Virginia Gov. Linwood Holton, all party members, said they would not be running in 1970.

Holton, a Republican, said that of the two million children in Virginia, 100,000 are in the state's 100,000 schools, with 100,000 more in the state's 100,000 schools, with 100,000 more in the state's 100,000 schools.

Warm Weather Expected By Wednesday

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A warm front, which began over the state early today, was expected to bring some relief to the cold winter temperatures that plagued Arkansas during the weekend.

A fast-moving cold front moved through the state Saturday, bringing the first taste of winter this season.

The National Weather Service said temperatures would remain in the 30s and 40s today, but by Wednesday a dry, cold wave should move into the area, bringing low and cold conditions.

An upper-level low was to move across the state today, spreading cloudy skies and some drizzle. The pressure is thought to keep the temperatures from dropping below freezing.

The extended outlook called for partly cloudy with rain days and cool nights Wednesday through Friday. Highs were expected to be in the 40s with lows in the 30s to mid 30s.

Highs Sunday ranged from 37 at Harrison to 51 at Texarkana. Early morning temperatures generally ranged from the mid to high 30s in the central and eastern portions of the state.

Overnight lows ranged from 21 at Fayetteville to 24 at Harrison, 24 at Jonesboro, 26 at Pine Bluff, 26 at Texarkana, 26 at Ft. Smith, 26 at Memphis, 26 at Little Rock and 26 at Fort Smith.

No precipitation was reported during the 24-hour period that ended at 6 a.m. today.

China Sending in Advance UN Team

UNITED NATIONS (AP) — A Chinese advance party from Beijing was today expected to arrive in Washington to make arrangements for the arrival of a Western team of Communist China's first representatives to the United Nations.

The advance team arrived in Washington after a flight via Karachi, Pakistan, but two remained in the Chinese capital, apparently to wait for the delegation. Mr. Francis said it would arrive in Paris Wednesday morning and leave in a flight arriving in New York at 10 a.m. EST.

The four advance men were due at Kennedy airport shortly after noon today.

New York police officers said they had heard of any plans for large hostile demonstrations at the airport, but one official said "We'll try to make these people through as quickly as possible in order to any demonstrations."

Officials of the U.N. Protocol and Travel sections were going to the airport to meet the delegation.

The delegation to the General Assembly consists of five representatives and five alternates, headed by Deputy Foreign Minister Chao Kuan-chun. The deputy head, Security Council representative and chief of the permanent delegation to Shanghai, China's ambassador in Canada since July.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

SOME MATTERS OF ETIQUETTE

Dear Helen: About 50 of our friends gave us a big shower after you and I announced our engagement. They all went together and bought us a television set. Everyone contributed about $5.00 each.

Well, Tod and I aren't getting married. He found another girl and ran off with her.

As we've already used the set, for about four months, I couldn't turn it back to the store, and I couldn't sell it for half what it's worth. Also, I'm broke (and still in college and don't have a job or parents I can fall back on).

I know you're supposed to give back engagement gifts if the wedding falls through, but how can I refund $250 I don't have?—LEFT, LOST AND LOW

Dear L.L. and L.:

Your friends will understand. And though you may not think so now, there'll be a next time around. When that day comes, make sure those who were invited to your first shower are somehow told that they've already given.—H.

Dear Helen: As a secretary to an executive of a large firm, I find I have to bite my tongue for silence when a caller learns that the person he wants is unavailable and says, "I'd like to talk to SOMEONE."

Does he think he's talking to a tape recorder or computer? Usually, by gentle prodding I find out what he wants, and give a satisfactory answer. After all, private secretaries aren't stupid!

Why can't business callers use better manners?—SOMEONE

Dear Someone: Callers such as these are in the same box with business people who give a name and number, but no message—and expect the busy executive to call them back!—H.

Dear Helen: They don't ask what color you are on job applications any more. How come they still have a space marked "Sex"? I thought discrimination was outlawed in such matters.—NO "SEX" PLEASE

Dear No:

Not yet. But perhaps soon, though there are still a few jobs (longshoremen, for example) which aren't exactly suited to the average woman.

Mrs. Wilma Scott Heide, president of National Organization for Women gives this advice:

"On employment applications which ask 'Sex' you can put

Marines to Celebrate Founding Day

On 10 November, local Texarkana based Marines will join Marines world wide in celebrating the 196th anniversary of the founding of their corps.

In honor of this occasion, the Training Center at 2515 College Drive will be conducting an open house from 10:00 a.m. to 8:00 p.m. Fifty original works of combat art, part of an all-marine exhibition circulated by the Smithsonian institution, will be on display for the open house. Aware of the growing historical significance of this collection, the Marine Corps encourages its artists to express themselves freely, it being felt that the artist's interpretation of what he sees and experiences gives his medium of reporting its distinction.

Other exhibits and equipment will be displayed and tours conducted of the Training Center. Coffee and birthday cake will be served.

Wigs Not New—in Old Days Men of High Estate Were 'Bigwigs'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

In olden times a "bigwig" was literally a man who wore a big wig. Custom restricted the wearing of full-length wigs to judges and members of nobility. Ordinary persons wore little wigs. So, in time, personages of high estate were called "bigwigs."

Fish and chips, probably the most famed British food delicacy, have been banned from the menu at two U.S. air bases in Britain. The reason: the grease-fried chunks of cod and French-fried potato chips were making the airmen so fat they had trouble racing to man their outposts during base alerts.

Speaking of fat, if you are that way it may be because your mother put you on solid food too early as a baby. A study at the University of Washington found that children who put on solid food at the age of six weeks to two months tended to become more obese than those who remained on a fluid diet until the third or fourth month.

Flowers are regarded as fragile, but some of them exert great strength in growing. For example, the Soldanelle of Switzerland is called the ice flower because it forces its way up through solid ice to blossom in the sun.

Quotable notables: "Half the world is composed of people who have something to say and can't, and the other half who have nothing to say and keep on saying it."—Robert Frost.

What is the origin of the gold ring? One theory is that it was invented by the Egyptians who used the rings as money. The fingers of a man's hand were Himalaya Mountains. The natives rarely smoke the plant but find it quite useful. They make rope from it, a hair pomade and a muscle liniment. Now and then they also get a bit dizzy when they eat food cooked in marijuana oil.

Worth remembering: "Would you believe there's still buried treasure in this country? If you don't think so, just listen to some women talk about their first husband."

Exit lines: Cato the Younger cried out as he thrust a sword into his body. "Now I am master of myself!" Czar Alexander II of Russia said, "I am sweeping through the gates, washed in the blood of the Lamb." King George IV told his page, "Wally, what is this? It is death, my boy. They have deceived me." Gen. U.S. Grant said, "I want nobody distressed on my account."

Folklore: A mole on the right arm or shoulder means you're very wise—on the left arm or shoulder that you're argumentative. A mole near an armpit is a sign of wealth and honors; a mole on the throat, riches and health.

It was Samuel Johnson who observed, "A man is in general better pleased when he has a good dinner upon his table than when his wife talks Greek."

STERN TO BE HONORED

NEW YORK (AP) — Violinist Isaac Stern will receive the King Solomon Award of the America-Israel Culture Foundation on Dec. 15.

The annual award goes to a person for his outstanding services to the development of the cultural life of Israel. It is a bronze medalion embedded in a segment of Jerusalem stone and reads in both Hebrew and English "a wise and an understanding heart," which Kings 3:12 says about King Solomon.

Previous recipients include Jerusalem Mayor Teddy Kollek, pianist Arthur Schnabel, actress Hanna Rovina, sculptor Jacques Lipchitz, composer Igor Stravinsky and conductor Zubin Mehta.

Stern has given concerts in Israel and helped arrange other concerts there. Also he has guided young violinists who have come to America from Israel to study.

Weekend Play Brings Some Teams Up

By HERSCHEL NISSENSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Those bitter rivals of the last two years, Notre Dame and Texas, are suddenly very much back in the bowl picture—but this time it probably won't be against each other.

Once-beaten Notre Dame rediscovered its missing offense Saturday and enhanced its bowl prospects with a 56-7 drubbing of Pitt. Fifteenth-ranked Texas, which captured one national championship and lost another by splitting the last two Cotton Bowl classics with Notre Dame, sneaked back atop the Southwest Conference—the SWC provides the host team—by downing Baylor 24-0 while No. 16 Arkansas was being held to a 24-0 tie by Rice.

Bowl bids can be tendered either on Nov. 24 or one Saturday before a team ends its season, whichever comes first, and eighth-ranked Notre Dame closes on Nov. 20, making the Fighting Irish eligible for an invitation next weekend.

The only problem is that both the Orange and Sugar Bowls would like to match the top survivors from the Nebraska-Oklahoma, Alabama-Auburn and Auburn-Georgia games—the respective dates are Nov. 25, Nov. 27 and Nov. 13—for the national championship, with Penn State also a possibility.

Also, there is no earthly reason—other than money—for Notre Dame to return to the Cotton Bowl since every SWC team has been beaten at least twice.

The college football elite kept rolling toward their eventual holiday destinations Saturday. Top-Rated Nebraska, ever-powered Iowa State 37-0 behind Johnny Rodgers' two touchdowns, Rich Sanger's three field goals and a vicious defense.

Runner-up Oklahoma cooled off a bit—if you consider 497 rushing yards a comedown—but still defeated Missouri 29-3. Third-ranked Michigan, with a Rose Bowl berth virtually assured, pounded Iowa 63-7 as Ed Soutterworth paced a 453-yard ground barrage and fourth-ranked Alabama got a touchdown from Terry Davis and two field goals from non-relation Paul Davis and held off No. 18 Louisiana State 14-7.

Auburn, No. 5, piled up a 30-point lead after three periods and beat Mississippi State 30-21 while Lydell Mitchell rambled for 255 yards and five touchdowns as sixth-ranked Penn State crushed Maryland 63-27 and No. 7 Georgia battered Florida 49-7.

Rounding out the Top Ten, ninth-ranked Ohio State fell to Michigan State 17-10 and No. 10 Arizona State ripped Brigham Young 38-17.

Elsewhere, 12th-ranked Stanford nailed down its second straight trip to the Rose Bowl and Pacific-8 crown by turning back UCLA 26-9 while No. 17 Southern California ousted Washington State 39-29.

Tulane, No. 14, streaked its winning streak to 32-second longest of modern times with a 25-6 triumph over Northern Illinois. Cornell ran its record to 1-0 and took over the Ivy League lead by beating Brown 41-0 while Columbia dumped Dartmouth from the unbeaten ranks 31-29 on Paul Kallades' 44-yard field goal with 48 seconds left.

Tech Clinches Bobcats Close Out the Season With a Victory

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Arkansas Tech clinched a berth in the Arkansas Invitational Conference championship Saturday night with a 40-10 victory over Ouachita.

Arkansas Tech, ranked No. 1 in Division I of the NAIA, sailed to its 10th straight win in clinching its season record to 10-0.

Running back Benny Shepherd scored four touchdowns to lead the Wonder Boys. He scored three times in the first half on runs of two, eight and three yards and then ran seven yards for a TD in the second half.

In other AIC action, Southern State blanked Millsaps 21-0, Harding blasted Henderson 24-3 and UA - Monticello defeated State College 13-6.

Mike Robinson rushed for 126 yards and scored a touchdown to lead Southern State. The Mulders were in command the entire game as they took the opening kickoff and marched 56 yards in 13 plays with Roy McLemore going in for the touchdown from four yards out. McLemore picked up 73 yards rushing.

Thomas Henry scored twice to lead Arkansas-Monticello to victory over State College.

Henry broke 81 yards for a touchdown in the second quarter and added one yard for a score in the third period. He ran 24 times for 184 yards.

Alan Luxon scored two touchdowns as Harding rolled over Henderson.

Dixon, who rushed 35 times for 126 yards, scored on runs of seven and nine yards as Harding broke open the game in the second half for its first AIC victory of the season. The score at halftime was 3-3.

On the second Bobcat possession that started from the Hope 31 yard line, Johnson took the ball on a left side sweep and turned the corner for the last 33 yards to paydirt with 1:57 left in the first period. Tim White put the extra point kick through the uprights for a 7-0, Bobcat lead that would soon after disappear.

At the outset of the second quarter, Nashville recovered a Bobcat fumble at the Hope 36, and seven plays later fullback Larry Ray put the Scrappers on the board with a two yard burst and the extra point knotted the game at seven points each.

Intercepting a Hope aerial at the midfield stripe on the first play after the ensuing kickoff, the Scrappers again moved down the field, scoring on a 34 yard pass play from quarterback James Jamison to slotback Randy Walston. The extra point kick gave the Scrappers a 14-7 lead with 6:57 left in the second period, which also carried on into the halftime break.

Both teams had various other opportunities to score or move deep in the enemy's territory, but many times each defense proved too tough to penetrate.

Nashville also attempted two field goals with the last just barely falling short with only eight seconds left in the game.

Outstanding defensive players were Lynn Norton, Kenneth Ellis, Ray Wheelington, Bubba Powers, and Jimmy Smith with the rest of the unit also doing a fine job.

And so, as the season has now come to a close, everyone now begins turning to basketball, with the first three games against Springhill, there tomorrow night. Most of the players have been practicing since the start of school and the teams have been sharpening up and preparing for the season.

Coach Bill Peterson of the Owls said, "We needed a win over a big opponent. Winning would have put us back in the race and would have been something for our program to grow from."

He said the tie wasn't a moral victory.

He said how our players felt, he said. "They're not in a sorry state."

Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles admitted. The way we played we were lucky to tie. "I don't want to take anything away from Rice. They did a fine job."

Tech defeated the Tech game by the memory of Pittman who lost a team attack at the Baylor game.

New Head Coach Billy Tohill said. "This is the happiest day of my life. Our men played beautifully. I never left their minds at the back we were playing for."

Everyone hates to lose, especially when it's the last high school game you ever play for your alma mater.

So, tells the story of Friday night game between Hope's own Bobcats and the Nashville Scrappers. With the Cats winning by a narrow 15-14 margin and leaving a few seniors a leaving mark of 15 wins and only 4 losses during their three year duration. And of course the juniors and sophomores picked up another win on their career marks too.

That leaves both teams with an even 10 regular season mark, although the Bobcats must be considered in a rougher class of football than Nashville.

Hope started off in fine fashion Friday night, scoring first, but things turned an about face and the Bobcats had to come alive in the second half to salvage the victory. And they did just that.

With 3:59 left in the third quarter, David Johnson bulled his way over from two yards out to give Hope their second touchdown of the night and a possible shot at either a tie or the lead, or if the PAT attempt failed the fate of still trailing in the game. As it turned out the Cats made good their bid for the lead as flanker Buddy Ingram took a swing pass from quarterback Robbie Boyd and went into the end zone with the eventual winning points.

On the second Bobcat possession that started from the Hope 31 yard line, Johnson took the ball on a left side sweep and turned the corner for the last 33 yards to paydirt with 1:57 left in the first period. Razorbacks Not Very Happy With Tie at Houston

By HARRY KING
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The Rice Owls were broken hearted. The Arkansas Razorbacks were far from elated. It was the empty feeling that goes with a tie.

Arkansas' Bill McClard boomed a 45-yard field goal on the final play of the game Saturday that snatched a victory from the Owls and gave the Razorbacks a 24-21 tie.

"About all you can say is that a tie is better than a loss," said Arkansas Coach Frank Broyles. Arkansas, down 24-13 in the fourth quarter, had a chance to win in the final three minutes after quarterback Joe Ferguson erased a major penalty with a 30-yard pass to Mike Reppond. The play carried to the Rice line.

On first down, Ferguson headed to his left on the option play and then turned upfield. Linebacker John Kelly separated Ferguson and the football and Dave Snellings fell on the ball at the Rice five with 1:43 left in the game.

McClard's field goal came after Carl Swiere ran into Arkansas' Jack Morris, who had called for a fair catch of a Rice punt at the Owls' 43. The penalty moved the ball to the Rice 28 and on came McClard.

After a 31-7 victory over Texas four weeks ago the Razorbacks were heavily favored to win the Southwest Conference championship. Now they are in third place in the SWC and desperately need outside help.

Texas, 4-1 in conference play, meets TCU, 3-1 in the conference, next week. Arkansas is 3-1-1. Texas A&M is 3-2, SMU 2-2. TCU must play Texas, Rice and SMU. Texas meets A&M the week after TCU.

It was A&M that threw the race into a tizzy, upsetting Arkansas 17-9 last week.

Against the Aggies Arkansas made 50 yards rushing, Saturday they made 164 yards.

The last two weeks the teams have decided to stop Ferguson's passing and do the best they can against our run," Broyles said. "The last two games Ferguson has been throwing into a stacked deck."

Broyles said the Razorback coaches and players may have begun "tighten up a little bit" after the Texas game.

"We got to talking about the last four games, saying all we've got to do, all we've got to do," Broyles said. "We started saying we've got to win this one and the pressure began to build up. When you get under pressure, you make more mistakes. I'm just not sure we played either of those two ball games with the relaxed confidence you need to execute properly."

Arkansas made the same mistakes against Rice it had made against A&M. Three turnovers led directly to the Aggies points. Two fumbles in the first two minutes gave the Owls a quick 10-0 lead.

"We have helped the other teams," Broyles said, "and they've been able to take advantage of our errors. When you give an underdog some breathing room they get to thinking they can win the game and they play with a lot better attitude."

Mike Saint's five-yard touchdown run and McClard's extra point tied the score 10-10 in the opening seconds of the second quarter. Moments later, Louis Campbell intercepted a Philip Wood pass at midfield and the Razorbacks appeared ready to take command. Instead, Arkansas settled for a 34-yard field goal and a 13-10 halftime lead.

"We just couldn't get far enough ahead to force them to pass every time," Broyles said. "Bruce Gadd was able to keep tremendous pressure on our defense by mixing his plays."

Gadd caught Arkansas' secondary taking a fake and nailed Bob Berg with a 53-yard scoring pass that put the Owls on top 17-13 in the third quarter. On the Owl's next possession Gadd engineered an 80 - yard drive that ended when Bob Brown turned a screen pass into a 34-yard scoring play.

AFC West Is in a Very Fidgety State

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer

The Kansas City Chiefs were gone with the wind and Edd Hargett's storm buffeted the Oakland Raiders.

Those elements combined Sunday to keep the American Football Conference's Western Division race in an extremely fidgety state.

Capricious winds, howling up to 35 miles an hour at New York's Shea Stadium, were a deciding factor as the Jets blew out the favored Chiefs 13-10 in the National Football League.

Hargett, meanwhile, was another natural phenomenon, directing three last-half touchdown drives to help the New Orleans Saints salvage a gutsy 21-21 tie with the powerful Raiders.

The day's results moved Oakland into sole possession of first place in the bitter West race, only a half-game ahead of arch-rival Kansas City.

"It was a tough day to work," said Kansas City quarterback Len Dawson after getting caught up in a Jet stream. "Fighting that wind makes it tough. You couldn't lob the ball because the wind got hold of it and you never knew what it would do to the ball."

Hargett, on the other hand, knew where the ball was going every minute as he came off the bench to work his late magic.

Veteran George Blanda, who has performed similar heroics for Oakland but didn't get the chance this time, agreed that Hargett headlined the "Blanda Show" well.

"Yeah, he did," said Blanda, "and more credit to him."

Other surprises laced the NFL Sunday as the last-place Philadelphia Eagles soared to a 7-7 tie with the Washington Redskins, leaders of the National Conference's Eastern Division, and the Green Bay Packers upended the Chicago Bears, who are fighting for the lead in the National Conference's Central Division.

The Dallas Cowboys had to battle to pull out a 18-13 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals; the San Francisco 49ers won a 13-9 fight over the Minnesota Vikings in a meeting between division leaders and the Miami Dolphins rode a rugged running attack to a 34-0 victory over the Buffalo Bills to keep their lead in the American Conference East.

Elsewhere, the Pittsburgh Steelers dominated the Cleveland Browns 26-9 and tied them for first place in the AFC Central race; the New York Giants turned on the high-scoring San Diego Chargers 35-17; the Atlanta Falcons disposed of the Cincinnati Bengals 9-6; the New England Patriots pasted the Houston Oilers 28-20 and the Detroit Lions slugged the Denver Broncos 24-20.

The Baltimore Colts host the Los Angeles Rams in a game tonight.

Long before Bobby Howfield gunned through a 39-yard field goal in the fourth quarter for the New York Jets' winning points, they had plenty of help from the tricky wind currents at Shea.

The elements handicapped the Dawson-to-Otis Taylor passing combination, one of the hottest in pro football. Dawson was able to connect with his favorite target only twice during the game and threw for a sub-par total of 111 yards overall with 13 completions.

Winds also blew off target a 39-yard field goal try by Kansas City's Jan Stenerud just minutes before Howfield's game-winner.

"It's a cross wind here," said Howfield, a former Chief. "It kind of swirls every which-way. I just tried to compensate for it as best I could."

"Had the winds not been blowing it would have been different," the veteran said, shaking his head. "The ball would start out fine ... but then take off."

Hargett, who came in after starter Archie Manning injured his right elbow, took the Saints on touchdown marches of 79, 52 and 77 yards. But he wouldn't take all the credit for it, citing the Saints' strong running attack.

"When you can run the ball well, it enables your offensive linemen to set up better and give you better pass blocking,"

Monday, November 8, 1971

said the young quarterback, who also praised the Saint defense for stopping Oakland's vaunted offense.

Washington had a fancy 6-2 record before having to pull out a tie with the Eagles. The Redskins slaved off defeat when Billy Kilmer threw a TD pass to Clifton McNeil with four minutes left.

Lou Michaels kicked a 22-yard field goal with 59 seconds left, leading Green Bay over Chicago. The loss kept the Bears one game off Minnesota's central-leading pace in the National Conference.

Tony Fritsch kicked a 23-yard field goal with less than two minutes remaining for the Dallas victory that kept the Cowboys within shooting range of Washington, 1½ games behind.

Trevino Fails in Bid to Win Mexican

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Lee Trevino had a warning for Spain's Angel Gallardo, who won the Mexican Open Sunday and destroyed Trevino's dream of a fourth national gold championship.

"We'll tee it up again on Thursday and see what happens then."

Trevino, who never was really a factor in the final round, was referring to this week's World Cup championship in Palm Beach Gardens, Fla. Trevino and Jack Nicklaus will represent the United States in the 46-nation competition and Gallardo and Ramon Sota will represent Spain.

The slim, dark Gallardo, who does not compete on the American tour and is little known outside of Europe, pulled off a major upset when he sank a 22-foot birdie putt on the final hole for a one-stroke victory.

Gallardo had a final round 70, two under par on the demanding Club de Golf course, and finished with a 72-hole total of 275.

Billy Maxwell, a 42-year-old veteran of 18 years on the American tour, started the cool and cloudy final day in a tie with Gallardo for the top spot but couldn't match the Spaniard's birdie-birdie finish and came in second by a stroke with a 71 for 276.

Trevino, already the holder of the American, British and Canadian national championships, was a heavy favorite to win this one, too, but could do no better than tie for third with a 69 for 280.

Mexico's Juan Neri and Victor Regalado had the same total.

Trevino, as he had promised, donated his $2,333 winnings from the total purse of $28,000 to the Mexican national orphanage.

"Sure, I'm disappointed," Trevino said. "I had been wanting to win this for a couple months and I think the people down here wanted me to win it."

"But it's awful hard to win again when you're coming right off a win (he set a single-season money winning record of $227,243 last week when he won the Sahara Invitational), particularly when you want it as much as I did this one."

"We'll try it again next year."

Trevino, highly popular with the gallery, was mobbed by fans and jostled by the uninhibited crowd as he moved down the fairways.

NHL President Says League May Expand

NEW YORK (AP) — Expansion was expected to be the main topic on the agenda as the National Hockey League's board of governors convened today for a two-day meeting.

Originally Clarence Campbell, the president of the league, had said that it didn't appear that the NHL would expand before the 1973-74 season.

There is a possibility, however, that the league may decide to move sooner than that, perhaps even next season.

Among the new franchises rumored to be considered are Atlanta and Long Island. Both have applied for franchises and have arenas under construction.

One of the reasons for the considering of new franchises is the newly formed rival World Hockey Association.

Cavaliers Come Back to Win Over Portland

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
 "Don't bury us, we'll come back," warned Cleveland Coach Bill Fitch after the Cavaliers had played what he called the worst home game in their history. The renaissance took place Sunday night, probably much sooner than even Fitch anticipated, as the Cavaliers stunned the Portland Trail Blazers 120-99.

Only Friday night, the second-year Cavaliers had the poorest shooting night from the field in their shortlived National Basketball Association career, hitting less than 27 percent in bowing to Phoenix 107-87.

"It's as poor as we've played at home, and that includes 41 games last year," moaned Fitch. "We didn't play well in any department. We didn't shoot, pass, run or play defense."

In their next game, against Portland, the Cavaliers showed a complete reversal. Bobby Smith scored 26 points. Rick Roberson and Bobby Washington set team records, Roberson with 23 rebounds and Washington with 20 assists. And Roberson added 19 points and Charlie Davis had 18 as the Cavaliers posted their first home victory of the season.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Baltimore edged Houston 109-106; Golden State downed Seattle 109-102, and Los Angeles topped New York 103-96.

No games were scheduled in the American Basketball Association.

Philippine Election Toll Mounts

By JOHN NANCE
Associated Press Writer
MANILA (AP) — The death toll neared 200 today as Filipinos elected eight senators and 15,093 local officials in the most violent election in their history. Sixteen election-related deaths were reported by noon, raising some unofficial tabulations to 178 since the campaign started. Officially the death toll was put at 141 through Sunday night, but all news media reported much higher figures. The toll was more than double that in the most violent previous campaign, in 1967, when 75 persons were killed.

More than 50,000 troops and reserves were posted throughout the islands to combat violence and intimidation and guard ballot boxes.

The government took out life insurance policies for volunteer keepers of the polls, which opened under clear skies over most of the archipelago. Officials estimated that more than 80 per cent of the approximately 11 million registered voters would cast ballots.

In addition to the eight senate seats, or one third of the upper house, the voters were choosing governors of all 66 provinces, mayors of the 1,490 cities and towns, including Manila, and other local officials.

Except for the Senate races, the issues were generally localized. But both President Ferdinand E. Marcos' ruling Nationalista party and the opposition Liberal party waged active campaigns on national issues in an attempt to create a party vote.

Marcos, who won a second four-year term in 1969, said the Communists were supporting the Liberal candidates and that the election would be a referendum for his programs of anti-communism and peaceful revolution.

The Liberals campaigned hard on issues such as inflation, pointing out that the price of rice is more than four times higher than when Marcos took office. They accused the administration of corruption and of creating a climate of violence.

Election officials said they hoped to have complete results by late Thursday. Decisions in the senate races and the major mayoral and gubernatorial contests may be known by early Wednesday.

SPORT SHORTS

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LOS ANGELES (AP) — A broken jaw has finished the college football career of UCLA safetyman Ron Carver.

Team doctors said Sunday Carver, a senior, suffered the injury in Saturday's 20-9 loss to Stanford. Carver said he was hurt in a third-quarter collision with Stanford receiver Miles Moore.

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — LeMayne-Owen College of Memphis has again this year been invited to participate in the Chicago Christmas Basketball Classic, officials of the school said.

THAT LOOK of concern is more or less permanent on the face of Treasury Secretary John B. Connally these days as he attempts to explain the Nixon economic program and its attack on inflation.

Says Abortion Issue Between Doctor, Patient

By DALA MCKINSEY
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Although he wrote the present Arkansas abortion law, Eugene Warren thinks that abortions should be treated like any other medical problem—between doctor and patient.

"I doubt if the state has any proper place in the matter," Warren said.

Under the law passed in 1969, three doctors must examine the woman and pass judgment that the abortion should be performed for either medical or mental reasons.

The patient must also be a resident of Arkansas and, if a minor, must have the consent of her parents. If married, her husband must give his consent.

For any person violating the law, the fine is $1,000 and/or a prison sentence of one to five years.

The whole procedure is so costly, sometimes up to $500, that it is cheaper for the woman to fly to either California or New York and have an abortion, according to Dr. David L. Barclay, chairman of the Department of Obstetrics at the University of Arkansas Medical Center at Little Rock.

Abortions in California and New York run about $150 at most of the clinics, and the airfare roundtrip on American Airlines is $212 first class and $164 in the coach. The cost is $262 roundtrip to Los Angeles first class and $210 coach.

A spokesman for American

Airlines in Little Rock said there had been "a number of calls" to the office regarding flights for persons wishing abortions.

Informed sources say that costs for the underground abortions being done in Arkansas run about $400.

Warren says there are not as many abortionists in Arkansas as there were at one time, but added authorities only hear about "botched abortions," where the patient is forced to go to a doctor or to the hospital because of bleeding or because of an infection.

Then, Warren said, the girl usually refuses to name who performed the abortion. He said he has known of occasions where the girl has died, still refusing to name who performed the abortion.

Several years ago, Warren said an abortionist was working out of a Hot Springs motel and a girl could be taken to abortionists there just by telling a taxi driver she needed an abortion.

Warren said he learned about the operation when a newspaper man in Peoria, Ill., called him and said advertisements had been mailed to Peoria offering the service.

Warren said three girls called the man, made an appointment and the abortionist met the girls at the Hot Springs airport. The four then went to the motel and police moved in.

Warren also said it was illegal for a girl to abort herself, but then as he pointed out, it is "also illegal to commit suicide."

Neither Warren nor Barclay said he knew how many abortions were being performed currently in Arkansas.

Barclay expressed concern for the poor girl who cannot afford the prices.

"Anybody can get abortions, if they have the money," Warren observed. "Frankly, the rich have always been protected."

Barclay said girls in small towns many times had to come to Little Rock to find enough doctors and specialists to meet requirements of state law.

He said abortions were being performed at both the Medical Center and Baptist Hospital in Little Rock. But, he said neither hospital had the time or facilities to get into much of the abortion business.

"More abortions are done out of state than in the state," Barclay said.

"We simply have to limit the number of abortions because of space and personnel," Barclay said of the Medical Center.

Warren predicted that abortions will become legal throughout the country within the next five years. But the lawyer, who became involved with the abortion law through his work as the attorney for the Arkansas Medical Society, refused to comment on whether unrestricted abortions could be legalized in Arkansas.

Court Rules Hearing for Taxpayers

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Supreme Court ruled today that a group of Desha County taxpayers is entitled to a hearing on a petition alleging that the Desha County Board of Election Commissioners declined to consider the group's petition for a recount in a school election.

The petition was filed by E. R. Henry Jr. and others.

They filed suit to require the Desha County Board of Education to recount the votes cast in an election for increasing the property tax millage to finance construction of a school building.

Circuit Court Judge Randall L. Williams dismissed the petition, holding that Arkansas law did not give his authority to compel the board to conduct a recount.

The decision on whether to conduct the recount was given to the board and was an act of the board's discretion, Williams ruled.

The Supreme Court unanimously held in an opinion by Associate Justice Lyle Brown that Williams was correct in concluding that the court could not force the board to conduct the recount, but the high court said the court could direct the board to consider a petition for a recount.

If it is established in a circuit court hearing that the board did decline to consider the petition, then the circuit court would have authority to direct the board to take action on the petition and either grant or deny it, the Supreme Court said.

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — A Bob Hope special with an all-star cast came along to brighten the tube Sunday night.

There was Jack Benny in 1929 Joe College clothes and a wig playing a campus Romeo. John Wayne, in a spoof of the popular "All In The Family" played a bigot of the Old West—he hated ranchers, bankers, coyboys, schoolmarm and Indians. Debbie Reynolds was a sexy lady spy in a lighthearted treatment about Henry Kissinger's recent visits to Peking.

The sketches on Hope's shows over the years have always looked as if they were tossed together on the spur of the moment. Very often they don't come off at all—the John Wayne sketch, for example, was heavyhanded and never got off the ground. But the participants seem to have such a good time that the audience is pulled right into the spirit of things.

Hope himself works engagingly into everything, but the high moment of the special, as usual, was his monologue.

Perhaps it is because Hollywood studios are turning out low-budget, hurry-up made-for-TV film features like flapjacks that the product has been thoroughly undistinguished so far this season.

Especially disappointing have been NBC's weekly "World Premiere" programs.

One can hardly expect top-drawer talent or writing on a weekly basis. But too many of the made-for-TV shows look like movies that would turn up on the bottom of a double feature bill in theatrical release.

"A Howling In The Woods" on NBC Friday night was an unimaginative attempt to create a thriller. It used every cliché device around—a dog howling in the woods, dark woods, and lots of rain, thunder and lightning. It still didn't help the story about a girl returning to her hometown to find the whole community hostile, her father away on a mysterious trip and her stepmother acting pretty strange. The veteran viewer of old black-and-white movies knew almost from the outset that the body in the forest grave was no deer and that there were killers around.

The "World Premieres" are turned out on a budget of $750,000 per show—the most expensive of the made-for-TV programs—and this season have been making a disappointing showing in the ratings. ABC's "Movie Of The Week," brought in on a budget of under $400,000 a show are particularly popular programs, most weeks showing up in Nielsen's top five.

Warren predicted that abortions will become legal throughout the country within the next five years. But the lawyer, who became involved with the abortion law through his work as the attorney for the Arkansas Medical Society, refused to comment on whether unrestricted abortions could be legalized in Arkansas.

WHAT'S UP FRONT is an avant-garde nursery. Adding a wing to an apartment isn't easy, but as Marcel Lachat found when his daughter Sarah was born, it's easier than finding a larger apartment in overcrowded Geneva, Switzerland. So, he improvised a nursery of his own—a 661-pound polyester sphere with a capacity of about 14 cubic yards—and suspended it from the front of his apartment house. Although the fire department has threatened to remove it, baby still resides in the cozy sausalike outdoor sculpture.

ONCE UPON A TIME

the dolls known as Kewpies were the rage of the country. And like so many other mementoes of America's crowded past, in the current craze for nostalgia, the Kewpie is coming back. A Chicago firm is again producing the happy little dolls exactly as created by artist Rose O'Neill at the turn of the century. At left, freshly made Kewpies tumbling in a dryer. Painting of the cherub faces, below right, is little changed from Miss O'Neill's own hand technique many years ago, below left.

Electric Reducers Can Kill

Devices Banned by Government

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—In the paper you mentioned the use of electrical devices to strengthen the abdominal muscles and how dangerous they were. You suggested they be discarded immediately. All I am interested in knowing is what kind of device—I have a Relax-a-Cizer and was wondering if you meant this particular machine.

Dear Reader—Many people have written in about this since I mentioned the young man of San Antonio, Tex., who was killed by electrocution with one of these devices. I usually do not mention brand names but will make an exception. The Federal Trade Commission has banned the Relax-a-Cizer from public sale as a health hazard. This device and any other similar device that uses electricity to stimulate the muscles to contract for the purposes of slimming the waist have been banned. I think the death of the healthy young man mentioned above should be adequate explanation for the FTC action.

The safest and best way to fight the battle of the bulge is with proper exercise and a sensible diet to prevent obesity. I repeat, throw away or turn in any electrical devices you have purchased for this purpose.

I am not talking about vibrators—these do not deliver an electric current to the muscles. The vibrators might be relaxing but will not do much for muscle tone or weight reduction. The simple truth is there is no short cut to prevention of obesity and treating pendulous pots.

Dear Dr. Lamb—You wrote that menstruation is unusual at 57. I will soon be 62 and I still menstruate, two to three times a year. It stopped for six years, now for four years I have menstruated six days each time.

Dear Reader—You are definitely unusual. I hope you have had a checkup by your doctor to be sure that it is menstruation. Your story is so unusual that I would like to repeat again, that any woman in middle life who has stopped menstruating and starts bleeding again should have an immediate examination by her doctor. Let your doctor decide if it is important or not after he has had a chance to examine you.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I am 12 years old and have an undesirable habit of slumping. Is there anything I can do to break the habit besides wearing braces?

Dear Reader—Wanting to be half the battle. Braces usually are not helpful in correcting posture unless there is a skeletal problem that needs correction. Muscles supported by a brace become weaker and less effective. One of the best aids to good posture is a good all-round exercise program. If your muscles are strong enough, you will be less likely to slump. Much of the rest is habit.

Start a regular set of exercises to strengthen the muscles between your shoulder blades and the muscles along your back. If you have a physical education teacher or gym teacher, ask

Nominee to Tell Plans
About Stock

By JOHN CHADICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Supreme Court nominee Lewis F.
Powell Jr. goes before the Senate Judiciary Committee today to face possible questions about what he intends to do with his stock holdings to avoid conflicts of interest.

The 64-year-old Richmond, Va., lawyer, a former president of the American Bar Association, has said he is willing to place his investments in a blind trust or do whatever else is necessary and proper.

The committee has not indicated what arrangement it

THE TIMELESS AND THE TIMELY coexist in a Danish field. A farmer at work with techniques little changed for long years glances apprehensively at the technology of the space age, a satellite communications device set up to provide a trans-Atlantic link with NATO field forces.

would consider satisfactory.

A financial disclosure statement submitted to the committee in advance of his testimony showed ownership of stocks and other securities worth more than $1 million.

Powell, nominated by President Nixon to succeed the late Hugo L. Black on the court, made a brief appearance before the committee last Thursday when he was presented by Virginia's senators. The state's entire congressional delegation was on hand, along with seven past presidents of the ABA, to lend their support.

However, testimony by Powell was delayed until today by two days of questioning Asst.
Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist, nominated by Nixon for a second vacancy on the court created by the retirement of John M. Harlan.

Once Powell's testimony is completed, the committee plans to hear from spokesmen for the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, Americans for Democratic Action, and other outside witnesses.

Committee action on the nominations announced by Nixon on Oct. 21, appears possible before the end of the week. The Supreme Court has rearranged its schedule awaiting the filling of the two vacancies.

Although Nixon described both nominees as judicial conservatives, liberals in and out of Congress have concentrated their opposition on Rehnquist, who has served in the Justice Department as counsel for Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell and the President.

The ABA's 12-member committee on the federal judiciary, in a unanimous report last week, said: "Mr. Powell meets, in an exceptional degree, high standards of professional competence, judicial temperament and integrity."

The ABA committee rated both men highly qualified for the court, although on Rehnquist, three members dissented and proposed instead that the ABA say only that it did not oppose his nomination.

Prisoners May Expect Sympathy
From Skippers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Most
sailors doing time in the brig
can now expect weekly visits from their skippers, who have been ordered to lend them "a sympathetic ear, sound advice" and a boost back up.

The recent order from Navy headquarters says prisoners rarely have been visited by ship and shore commanders.

"The goal of the Navy's corrections program is to restore prisoners to duty," said a directive sent worldwide.

"If this is to be achieved, it is important that commanding officers show a personal interest and take an active part in the effort to rehabilitate individual offenders under their command."

A commanding officer can contribute significantly to salvaging a prisoner "by visiting him and providing a sympathetic ear, sound advice, and whatever administrative assistance he can provide," the order said.

Accordingly, Navy headquarters decreed, "When circumstances permit, the commanding officer or his designated representative shall arrange to visit weekly the individuals under his command who are in confinement."

Disciplinary officials said the Navy's confinement rate is at the lowest level in history, 1.8 per 1,000 enlisted men. There were 904 men in brig or correctional centers as of Sept. 30.

Along with other Navy reforms, service leaders have been exploring new prison approaches far removed from the harsh bread-and-water philosophy of many years ago.

The Navy plans to open a new retraining command, probably in Orlando, Fla., senior officers said. Those men found suitable will get from six to eight weeks of special retraining before being returned to duty. During this period, they will be under what is called "minimum custody," living in their own barracks rooms.

The Navy also is stressing "base paroles," under which an inmate with a good brig record may be allowed to work on the base all day like any other sailor.
